THE TRADE SITUATION IN CHINA.

COMPREHENSIVE SURVEY BY BRITISH COMMERCIAL SECRETARY.

SOME REMARKABLE FACTS AND FIGURES.

We publish to-day a report on China as in June last, by Mr. H. J. Brett, British Commercial Secretary in Shanghai, which appears in the Board of Trade Journal for November 20th. The report deals with the present difficulties of trade with China. It is not easy, he states, to avoid a tone of extreme pessimism. Yet in spite of civil wars, strikes, and bankrupt Chinese finances the Customs figures show an expansion in external trade in face of every obstacle and discouragement.

Mr. H. J. Brett says conditions existing at Shanghai and at most of the other commercial centres of China at the time when he was writing (June last)—with a general strike paralysing foreign trade and some of the most important industries, a boycott of British and Japanese goods already partially in force, and demands put forward for the cancellation of all those Treaty privileges which the commerce of the country had been built up—render it difficult to avoid an extremely pessimistic tone in referring to the present economic situation in China and to the prospects for trade in the future. Apart from the crisis through which British residents are now passing, and which will doubtless adjust itself in time, a retrospect of the past twelve months does not encourage one to take a more cheerful view of the position. Without attempting to deal with the tangled political history of the year, a subject beyond the scope of the present survey, it may be useful, Mr. Brett thinks, to mention a few of the outstanding events having a direct effect on the economic life of the nation. Of these the most conspicuous was the outbreak of civil war last autumn in Central and Northern China which dislocated means of communication, undermined all confidence and credit in native banking and business circles, and reduced the inhabitants of large sections of the country to such destitution that even when it has been possible to overcome transport difficulties the market for any commodities other than the absolute necessities of existence has been greatly reduced. Since early in the present year there has been no renewal of hostilities on any extensive scale, but the contending factions remain in a state of unstable equilibrium, and the fear that fighting may break out again at any moment discourages the native merchant from risking his capital in industry or trade in any of the areas likely to be affected. In South China there has been a continuing succession of small wars between rival military leaders, resulting in a political situation so confused as to defy analysis, and the absence of any effective administration has naturally led to almost unrestricted piracy and brigandage. Conditions in the south have, in fact, been even less favourable to trade than in the Yangtze Valley; and, apart from warfare and banditry, Canton's trade has suffered severely from labour troubles, mainly political in origin. During the past year there were two general strikes of all merchants, two effective strikes of the junk men, an anti-foreign strike on the island of Shamen which lasted five weeks, and, finally, the dispute between the local Government and the defence corps organised by the merchants, which culminated in the destruction of much valuable property in the city and the temporary interruption of all business. At the moment of writing fighting had again broken out in Canton. In Western China, the great Province of Szechuen has, on the whole, been more free from serious disturbances than for some years past, and trade on the Upper Yangtze has been fairly active, but the situation remains unstable and is rendered still less promising by poor crops and the certainty of famine throughout large sections of the province.

THE BURDEN OF TAXATION.

In addition to, and partly as a result of, the chaotic administrative conditions, insecurity and disorder, trade has had to contend with an ever-increasing burden of taxation. Owing to the absence of any central authority each province is practically at liberty to adopt its own measures for raising revenue, and the imposition of taxes on commodities of every description usually appeals to the local official as being the simplest method. With regard to foreign imports, taxation is nominally limited, under the treaties between China and the Foreign Powers, to 5 per cent. Customs duty and a further 2½ per cent. if the goods are sent into the interior, and although complaints of additional levies en route, either in transit or on arrival at its destination, have always been rife, these impositions were formerly very seriously with the general course of trade. Of late years, however, the respect for treaty obligations has been rapidly diminishing in China, and during the past twelve months the inclination of local authorities to levy "consumption" or other taxes on foreign goods has become much more pronounced. Beginning with a tax of 50 per cent. on cigarettes the movement has extended to kerosene oil and various other commodities, and owing to the lack of any central Government, capable of exercising pressure on provincial authorities, protests against such impositions produce but little effect. Apart from the taxation above referred to, which has at least a semblance of legality as being imposed by the officials administering the Government of the particular provinces concerned, goods conveyed along the internal land and water routes have also to run the gauntlet of tax-stations controlled by local military officials, who levy further "protection" taxes solely for their own benefit. The cumulative effect of these impositions, which naturally apply to produce on the way down to the port of shipment as well as to imports, is to add so materially to the laid-down cost of the former as to prejudice the chance of finding a market in foreign countries, and in the case of imported goods to raise the price to the ultimate consumer to such an extent as to decrease considerably the volume of sales.

STRENGTH OF FOREIGN TRADE.

Under these depressing circumstances it is hardly possible to regard the economic situation and the prospects for foreign trade in China in the immediate future with anything approaching optimism, but there are a few considerations which it is desirable to keep in mind before declaring the position to be hopeless. There is, in the first place, the evidence of the Customs figures to show that at least up to the end of 1924 the trade of the country had continued to grow in the face of every obstacle and discouragement. It is true that this trade is at present being conducted on very unsatisfactory terms, and that most of the foreign firms engaged in it have sustained heavy losses, but the fact remains that, while in certain lines there is a marked falling off, the total volume of imports and exports still tends to increase. The development of new industries, although checked by the lack of security and confidence, is likewise proceeding slowly but surely, and the whole economic life of the country is gradually changing. While, therefore, it is to be feared that for some time to come business conditions in the country are likely to grow worse rather than better, there seems to be no reason to doubt that whatever political development may take place and whatever new trading methods may become necessary in the future, China must still remain one of the greatest potential markets of the world.

CHINA'S FINANCES.

There is little to be said about China's present financial position except that it has grown steadily worse during the past twelve months and that the Government is practically bankrupt. The charges on the unsecured debts continue to mount up, and in December the long-threatened default on the Hukwang Loan became a reality, this being the first occasion on which China has publicly defaulted on one of her pre-Revolution foreign loans. Funds have since been raised to meet this default, but the incident has done further damage to China's tottering credit. In view of the far-reaching political changes that took place during the year, it might have been expected that the financial obstacles with which successive Governments were confronted would have proved insurmountable, but, as often happens in China, the reverse has been the case, and the various settling days in Peking were negotiated with less apparent trouble than usual. This may perhaps partly be accounted for by the fact that crises which are continually recurring and never unexpected lose half their force, and the pressure is apt to relax when the worst is known and it is realised that there are no assets available for distribution. These periodical settlements, however, have naturally only been negotiated by means of complicated financial manipulation, and by adding still further to the volume of the Government's indebtedness to the native banks.

Of the regular sources of income on which the Government has been able to count in the past, the Customs returns show an increase of 6,000,000 Haikwan taels over the previous record made in 1923, a truly remarkable result in a country ravaged by civil war and with its leading railways paralysed for several months. It must be remembered, however, that this revenue is not touched by the Central Government, the whole of the surplus, after providing for all the foreign and indemnity obligations secured on these funds, being devoted to the service of the domestic loans. The salt revenue suffers considerably in comparison with the Customs, the receipts for 1924 showing a decrease of over 9,000,000 dollars compared with the preceding twelve months and being less than in any previous year since 1916. The net revenue amounted to 70,500,000 dollars, and after meeting all loan obligations surplus funds to the extent of 64,000,000 dollars (which included 12,000,000 dollars received from the Customs as a refund of reorganisation loan payments during the year) were released to the Government. It would, perhaps, be more accurate to say that this amount was considered as being released, since some 35,000,000 dollars of the total represents funds either retained locally or appropriated by provincial authorities or military commanders. In this connection it is interesting to analyse the results of some of the more important Government Departments. The Customs, which is entirely under foreign control, collected approximately 100,000,000 dollars, all of which was placed to the credit of the Government. The Salt Administration, which is only partially foreign controlled, remitted approximately 50 per cent. of its collection to the Central Government, while purely native controlled administrations, (Continued on next column.)

such as the wine and tobacco and the stamp duties, are estimated to remit only 10 per cent. of their revenues. The problem of putting China's finances on a sound basis is one of grave difficulty, enhanced by the absence of any Government with a semblance of authority over the whole country, but it is expected that this will be one of the questions to be discussed by the special conference held in accordance with the terms of the Washington Treaty. As regards trade, the financial situation in China during the period under review has been marked by a restriction of credit in Chinese banking circles, the unsettled conditions in the interior adding greatly to the difficulty of financing native business. There has been a great accumulation of money in Shanghai and Hongkong, brought down by wealthy Chinese, for purposes of security, but while this has led to a considerable increase in local land values and to substantial investments in municipal and other stocks, the native banks have been chary of advancing funds for trading purposes, and the foreign banks have also adopted a cautious policy in this respect. Although, therefore, the past year has been a very unprofitable period for most foreign and Chinese firms in the country, it has at least been free from any very serious financial crises, the restriction of credit operating as a check on the gambling instincts of the Chinese merchant. ## MR. G. C. MOXON AND HONGKONG.

"A TRUMPETER" WANTED.

Speaking at the annual dinner of the China Association in London Mr. G. C. Moxon said: I should like to say a word or two about this same Colony of Hongkong. (Applause.) As I was myself a member of the British community out there for a very long time I feel considerable diffidence in making any eulogistic remarks concerning it. I am reminded of an old dog's Latin jingle that used to be shot off at me in my boyhood if I was at all boastful, which, if I recollect aright, commenced something like this and possibly this may be applicable in this instance. (Laughter.) However, it has been borne in on me for many months past that poor little Hongkong sadly needs a trumpeter in this country. I only wish my blast could be louder and stronger. (Applause.) I have known the Colony in peace and in war, in times of great prosperity and the reverse—and I make bold to say that in all this great Empire of ours there is no community more loyal, more patriotic, or more generous (applause) and their present sorry plight is totally undeserved. I should further like to say that Hongkong as I knew it was a living refutation of the monstrous assertion made in this country recently by a Communist Parson—to the effect that the Union Jack stands for slavery. (Applause.) Some 35 years ago Hongkong was a small island in the China sea—sparsely inhabited by a few piratical Chinese fishermen—to-day she boasts a population of upwards of a million souls and is replete with all the amenities of a great modern city. Those thousands of Chinese who have flocked into her gates for years past have done so because under the British flag they obtain security and justice for all—from the poorest coolie to the richest merchant. (Applause.) I venture to state that every decent Chinaman who has made Hongkong his home has benefited thereby physically, morally and financially. (Applause.) I can only trust that wise and courageous statesmanship may speedily restore to Hongkong her wonted prosperity and to Great Britain her prestige in the Far East. (Applause.)

Trumpeter unus erat

BRITISH MISSIONARIES IN CHINA.

FUTURE "LEGAL RIGHTS" AND LIBERTIES.

Under instructions from a sub-committee of the Conference of Missionary Societies in Great Britain and Ireland, the following letter addressed to the Chinese Minister in London has been communicated to the Press for publication:—

Edinburgh House, 2, Eaton Gate,
London, S.W.1.
November 23rd, 1925.

To His Excellency The Chinese Minister in London, 49, Portland Place, W.1.

YOUR EXCELLENCY.—We are directed to inform Your Excellency that the British Missionary Societies working in China have been following the recent events there with the most sympathetic interest and concern. We are asked to assure Your Excellency that the British Missionary Societies working in China seek only to bring spiritual and material benefits to the people of that country.

They desire to express their appreciation of the friendship and goodwill shown by the officials and peoples of China to the missions and missionaries, practical evidence of which is to be seen in every province in which the Societies are at work.

The Missionary Societies further wish to accord loyal recognition to Chinese law and to abstain from interference in the administration of justice and public business. Their aim is to seek friendly relations with the people in whose lands they are permitted to reside and work.

The Missionary Societies welcome the action taken by His Majesty's Government in entering upon a comprehensive revision of the Treaties which at present regulate the position of foreigners in China; and we are directed to inform Your Excellency that the leading British Missionary Societies working in China have passed resolutions, expressing their desire that their future legal rights and liberties, instead of depending on existing Treaties between China and Great Britain, should be those freely accorded to them by China as a Sovereign Power and mutually agreed upon in equal conference between the Chinese Republic and Great Britain.

The Standing Committee of the Conference of Missionary Societies in Great Britain and Ireland have taken steps to make their views known to His Majesty's Government, and they reverently pray that the Supreme Ruler of the Universe may so direct the Chinese and British negotiations that the outcome of the present and the forthcoming conferences may serve the highest interests of the people of China, and may lead to closer co-operation between the peoples of our two countries.

Assuring Your Excellency of all regards, we beg to remain Your Excellency's most faithful and obedient servants, (Sd.) F. H. HAWKINS, Chairman.

(Sd.) KENNETH MACLEOD, Secretary.

DUTY ON RUBBER.

HIGHER RATE LEVIED.

A duty of three cents per lb. is now levied on rubber by resolution passed by the Legislative Council of the Straits Settlement and the Federal Council of the Malay States. In proposing the resolution in the Legislative Council at Singapore the Governor's Deputy (Hon. Mr. Hayes-Marriott, C.M.G.) said that previous to the Restriction Ordinance there was an assessment which was in force until 1922, when a duty was collected on a sliding scale. After the Restriction Ordinance duty of two cents per pound was fixed, but since then there had been a considerable rise in value. The Federal Council had proposed a duty of five cents, but the Colonial Government considered this too high and the Federal Council had passed a duty of three cents a pound.

THE SCOURGE OF ECZEMA!

ZAM-BUK BOUTS FIERY DISFIGURING DISEASE & GROWS NEW HEALTHY SKIN.

The ancient Greek meaning of the word Eczema is "to boil over," and a disease which is veritably a boiling over of all harmful matter contained in the affected parts of the body could not be more aptly named.

Dry, weeping and scaly eczema are a most dreadful scourge of hot climates. The disease attacks children and adults and unless treated by a powerful healer and germicide like Zam-Buk, eczema may in its chronic stages produce blindness, deafness and baldness.

Eczema may arise through the scratching of an itchy spot or pimple or through an abrasion, knock, cut or trivial wound where skin is broken or damaged. Early symptoms of eczema are reddened patches of skin on which tiny watery heads appear. The areas gradually become swollen and inflamed; there is a fiery irritation which becomes more intense as the eruptions burst and discharge.

Never ignore these early symptoms! At the least sign of soreness or itching, anoint the place with that wonderful soothing and healing balm—Zam-Buk. The rare herbal oils and extracts which compose Zam-Buk are so perfectly constituted and so refined that they are quickly absorbed deep into the tissues where they attack the skin disease at its very roots. Zam-Buk quickly soothes the fiery tortured skin; it kills and expels poisonous germs; draws away corruption and disease, and grows new healthy skin.

Treat all skin diseases and injuries with Zam-Buk. It is a safe, pure and reliable balm free from the stinging animal fats and harsh mineral drugs found in common ointments and dressings.

All dispensaries can supply Zam-Buk in handy size boxes. Agents—Messrs. Wakefield & Co. (China), Ltd., Stockton Road, Shanghai.

The traditions of Christmas were duly observed in Hongkong in the usual manner. We have no wintry snows or hoar frosts, but the flower sellers see to it that we get the hollyberries and the mistletoe. The hotels and many private houses were duly decorated for Christmas; the various stores of the Colony which had made provision for the Christmas demand for toys and articles "eminently suitable for Christmas presents" were well-depleted by Xmas Eve, and the European children of the Colony had a merry time what with the round of Christmas parties during the week, and the shower of Christmas gifts which met the gaze of probably every one of them on Christmas morning. The Christmas services at the Churches were well attended. The collections at the Cathedral services were in aid of the Diocesan Boys' and Girls' Schools and Orphanages.

Christmas Day was a "free" day in the Navy and Army, discipline being somewhat relaxed. The masts of all vessels of the Fleet were decorated with greenery and the ward-rooms and various messes on board the ships were attractively decorated. Murray Barracks, Wellington Barracks, Whitfield and Mount Austin Barracks were all centres of revelry and fun-making.

There were many sporting fixtures for the holidays. Special holiday golf competitions were held at Fanling, and on Christmas Day, Boxing Day and yesterday, the golfers' trains were well-filled.

At Kowloon, a "One Club" competition was held at Kowloon City Golf Course.

There was cricket both on Christmas Day and Boxing Day and on the latter day a football match also.

Members of the European Y.M.C.A., Kowloon, enjoyed a strenuous climb of Tai-Mo-Shan.

The Fanling Hounds met on Christmas morning at Mr. da Silva's bungalow and on Boxing Day afternoon met at the Kennels, Kwanti, and held a paper chase. Yesterday they were out for a drag hunt.

The annual yacht race of 71 miles to Macao started on the morning of Boxing Day, the yachts returning yesterday.

There were Boxing Day Carnivals at the Hongkong and Repulse Bay Hotels (to be repeated on New Year's Eve); a social evening for the Navy and Army at the Union Church Hall, Kennedy Road; a Christmas tree for the youngsters at the Civil Service Cricket Club and a tea-dance at the Craigengower Cricket Club.

CHRISTMAS DAY SERVICES.

AT ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL

The Bishop of Victoria (the Rt. Rev. Dr. C. R. Duppy) preached the sermon at the morning service at the Cathedral on Christmas morning taking his text from Matthew 1:23—"They shall call His name Immanuel which is being interpreted 'God with us'."

"If Christmas is not true what is our hope?" the preacher asked. "The story of Christmas seems almost too beautiful to be possible. Yet if it be not true—what then is our hope?"

We come we know not whence. We depart we know not whither. About us lies the universe with its immeasurable forces. Above us, we cannot but feel, is some supreme intelligent power, which ever hides itself, so that when man asks the why and the wherefore there comes no answer but the echo of his own cry: Such is man's position—man's pathetic position—if the Christmas message is not true."

THE MAN OF NAZARETH.

The Man of Nazareth has been the mightiest factor in the world's history. The birth of Christ is the turning point in human history, yet we do not know, perhaps we can never know, the precise date of His Nativity. His coming was unmarked by clocks and calendars. The course of human things went on as usual: each man was taken up with his own little project, the inn filled and emptied, travellers came and went. Yet this unobserved nativity has become a season as unchallengeable as the tides: the turning point in time.

And the story of Christmas means this: that behind this universe there is not merely a principle but a Person, a Father in heaven whose name is Love. If you ever really think about the vastness of this universe you must be staggered; staggered as you consider the vastness of life, the great processes of creation, the illimitable expanse of the universe—a universe in which our sun, which we used to think the centre of all things, is only a tumble little dwarf star. You realise you live in a universe vast beyond imagining and all around you you see the signs of a curiously unfinished world where each stage seems to be pointing on to something higher. What is the meaning of it all you ask?

XMAS MESSAGE.

And the answer is found in the Xmas message that in Christ God has completed, will complete, His creative work, that Jesus Christ is the Everlasting Son of the Father and that in Him we are in touch not with time alone but with eternity. He is the keystone of the arch of history, the redeeming Presence of God in time.

If you think the Christmas story with all its loveliness and haunting beauty is too wonderful to be credible to modern minds, then remember that the child who was born, lived, grew up, taught and healed and died and (as we hold) is alive for evermore and that the change He has wrought in human life is more wonderful than the story of His birth; that the control of the world, the Kingdom which has endured, has not been that of Herod or of Caesar but that of the Man of Nazareth, not the sword or the throne but the Kingdom of the Son of Man.

And the storied part is but the prelude to an illimitable future. In days to come men will return to the simplicity of the old Gospel story and find in it a history more real and permanent than any history since and will find in it their redemption and their rest.

Philosophies change, science advances, generations have their day, time shrinks and its barriers crumble, but Christmas Day will never lose its message or its hold.

"For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon His shoulders, and His name shall be called Wonderful Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. Of the increase of His government and of peace there shall be no end."

AT THE UNION CHURCH.

The preacher at Union Church, Kennedy Road, was the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald, who took as text the words "As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country." Prov. xiv:25.

"This ancient and expressive saying," the preacher said, "can be read on the walls of our Post Office, and they are well placed, for we in this distant tropical settlement know the value both of the good news and the cold water. Some time or other in your life you have, doubtless, experienced a really burning thirst on a blazing day, and had to tramp for hours before striking a stream at which it could be quenched. The traveller in the desert would give his earthly all for a draught of cold water; his soul thirsts, as the Psalmist puts it in another connection. Like that, says our proverb, is the longing of the exile for news from home, and it will be strange, all our means of quick communication notwithstanding, if some soul in this far away spot is not feeling that way this very Christmas time when mail bags all round him are bursting. Friend, greetings, loving remembrances: they have come to most of you. How, you looked out for them, and how you would have missed them had they failed to come!"

"How beautiful upon the mountains," sings the prophet of the Restoration, "are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace, that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth." Now the gospel of our Lord, the beginning of which in our world we commemorate on Christmas Day, is "good news from a far country." If we were deprived of it, if we had to wait and wait for it, and wonder if perhaps it might not come, we should know better how supremely good it is and how supremely wonderful. It is a message from heaven to earth, a message of goodwill to this world, which is the scene of so much ugly strife, and poisoned ill-feeling.

GLAD TIDINGS.

"So near and yet so far," we say, is that sphere of perfect good and love and bliss. Far away, yes, alas, but only because we keep it so, for never was a truer word than the poet's line,

"Heaven lies about us nearer than we think."

But, near or far, out of that home of God and of good came the glad tidings that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself, not imputing unto men their trespasses. "Is it not indeed like cold water to a thirsty soul? Does it not meet a bitter want? When we get rid for an hour, or a moment even, of dreary unbelief, of besetting sin, of cumbering care, how gladly we draw water from the wells of salvation; how ready are our ears, dimmed with the jarring strife of common days, for the heavenly message from the 'far country'!" The gospel of grace finds a welcome because on one side it is so remote from much in the actual life of men.

AWAY FROM HOME.

Concluding his discourse, the preacher said: "Now you and I know well that this place is far indeed from home to not a few, in more senses than one. There are men and women going about apparently merry enough, but uneasy at heart because they know the distance they have travelled is not to be measured by mere miles."

"If they write home it is less often than they used; their letters are apt to tell less than they omit, and be sure the loving souls who read them do not fail to read between the lines."

"What about sending some really good news over that long distance this Christmas, news that will give more happiness than all the riches of the East if you could dispose of them? Possibly someone who hears or who will read these words may pluck up heart in the strength of God and by the grace of Jesus Christ

UNION CHURCH, KOWLOON.

Almost every seat was occupied for the first Christmas Day service held in the Union Church at Kowloon. The children brought toys and playthings for the sick and poor, to be distributed by the London Missionary Society and these gifts were placed on the Communion table.

The Rev. J. Horace Johnston (minister of the Church) presided and a liberal offering of nearly $100 was made to the Sunday School Funds.

At the conclusion of the service, Wallace MacGregor, the infant son of one of the members was baptized.

In the course of his address, the Rev. J. Horace Johnston said: "This day is a day of rejoicing in all Christian lands and among Christian people in every quarter of the globe. To-day we celebrate an event of supreme importance to the human race, the turning point in the history of the world."

Nineteen hundred and twenty-five years ago (for our Calendar does homage at the Cradle of Bethlehem), He was born who remains for all time at once the meekest and the kindest of men, completely human and yet perfectly divine, the manifest and godliest of woman born—"the one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus."

To Him has been given an Empire the extent of which is not to be measured in miles and leagues nor bounded by rivers and ocean coasts. His territory is the mind and heart of man. His dominion is over the will and conscience of the race. The constitution of His Kingdom is love and long suffering, patience and purity, peace and inward joy. It is foretold: "Of the increase of His Government and peace there shall be no end."

And who dare deny that, once the eyes of all men turn to Him, once their minds are set to understand and to obey His golden rule of holy brotherhood, once Jesus, lifted on His cross, shall fellow-drawn all men into the glorious fellowship of His sufferings and His triumph? His redemptive purpose of the Almighty Father—then, I say, who dare doubt that all our ten thousand miseries and woes, the hateful progeny of sin, and selfishness, shall be banished from the earth and "sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

To Jesus we look with hope and eager expectation as the Champion of our Salvation. There is no other name under Heaven whereby man must be saved.

This is the Church's "Empire Day." This is the birthday of our King. This, in a profound sense, is our "Armistice Day." This is the day when the long hostility of man to God was in Jesus put to rest. In Him Heaven meets earth in close agreement. In Him are "God and sinners reconciled."

Thus we recall the ground of our rejoicing and, however pressing may be the troubles of these present times, however dark the immediate outlook in the future, we lift our thought above and beyond these narrow horizons and find the inspiration of our gladness in the age-long, world-wide, heaven-high purposes of our Redeemer God.

AT ST. ANDREW'S.

The Rev. G. R. Lindsay took as his text at St. Andrew's Church on Christmas morning Luke 11:10—"Lo, I bring you good tidings."

In the course of his discourse, the preacher said: "It was just because personal character was the only true mirror of a person and truth embodied in flesh and blood was more persuasive and satisfying than any other that the Father approached His children through history to meet men's needs; through the Babe among the bulrushes in Egypt right through to the Babe among the oxen in Bethlehem."

God's supreme revelation of Himself came through one belonging to this self-same sphere of reality in which we ourselves live; one who trod the earth we tread upon now, who lay in a human grave and on Easter morning shattered the same death which slays men."

An Indian priest said to a missionary once: "It matters nothing to me whether the story of Bethlehem is true or whether Christ was a real person so long as I have the vision of moral beauty which he sets before me." This was the old Greek view struggling to-day for the mastery (in theology—for instance) that ideas rank far above persons. But the Christian view is that ideas divorced from personal lives in which they are embodied may be attractive but remain vague and powerless to satisfy, as Confucianism bears witness. Jesus was the divine object given in history for believing eyes and if our faith faltered, as it so often does, we could look up again for standing power to Him who is the fairest among ten thousand and altogether lovely.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHINESE Y.M.C.A.

The "Good Tidings of Great Joy," a scene specially arranged by the Young People's Society of the Church of Christ in China, To Chai, for its Christmas Eve entertainment at the Chinese Y.M.C.A., Bridges Street, Hongkong, last Thursday evening, was so enthusiastically received that it was twice repeated on Christmas Day at the exercises of the To Chai Sunday School in the afternoon and the Christmas Tree celebration of Ying Wa College in the evening. In the scene were shown shepherds watching their sheep and angels above them blowing trumpets. A chorus of more than 50 voices were hidden behind the greenery and flowers forming part of the stage decorations. Fathers, sons and daughters; wives and husbands; brothers and sisters; formed this special chorus, and the singing was accompanied by an orchestra. In the Christmas celebration of the Chinese Christian community, the several gatherings at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. auditorium on Christmas Eve and Christmas are noteworthy.

The Y.M.C.A., the St. Paul's Girls School and other institutions also had their Christmas entertainments in the Chinese Y.M.C.A. auditorium.

Practically all entertainments at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. and in the Chinese Churches along Cause Road and Ladder Street during the holidays were opened to the general public, and non-Christian Chinese who attended were as numerous as the Church members.

CELEBRATIONS ON BOXING DAY.

HONGKONG HOTEL CARNIVAL.

Upwards of 450 people attended the Carnival in the grill room of the Hongkong Hotel on Boxing Night and greatly enjoyed themselves. Most were in fancy dress and the scene in the artistically decorated room was gay and animated. An excellent dinner was served and the floor was well occupied by dancers till 1 a.m. the closing hour.

As the table reservations were over-booked at the Hongkong Hotel, a Boxing overflow dance was held at the Repulse Bay Hotel, which was attended by just as many revellers as the function at the Hongkong Hotel.

The big Carnival at Repulse Bay Hotel, however, is on New Year's Eve and that it is going to be a huge success is clearly shown by the fact that table reservations for this function are now closed. In view of this a special dinner dance has been arranged to take place at the Hongkong Hotel on New Year's Eve from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight and table reservations can now be made for this. Fancy or evening dress for the Carnival at Repulse Bay is optional and motor coaches will leave for the Hongkong Hotel and the Peak Hotel at 1.15 a.m. There will be a late tram car to the Peak at 1.30 a.m.

ARMY AND NAVY.

Provision for the entertainment of members of the Naval and Military forces on Boxing Day was made by the Christian Endeavour Society at the Union Church, Kennedy Road, a social being arranged in the Church Hall for the soldiers and sailors. A large number availed themselves of the invitation and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

A CLIMB TO TAI MO SHAN.

A party consisting of the European members of the Kowloon Y.M.C.A. climbed Tai Mo Shan on Boxing Day. They set out from Kowloon at 8.30 a.m. and after two and a half hours' hard climbing most of the climbers reached the summit. Heavy rain somewhat marred the expedition and a thick mist obscured the panorama of the surrounding country. The fog, however, cleared before the descent was made and the climbers had a superb view of undulating countryside. Kowloon was again reached at 1.30 p.m. The expedition was in charge of Mr. J. H. Hunt, the Secretary of the Institution.

Another climb of the mountain has been arranged for New Year's Day, when a different route will be taken.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT CIVIL SERVICE CLUB.

Children's day at the Civil Service Club was never more successful than it was this year, on Saturday afternoon. There was the usual heavy-laden Christmas Tree, and surrounding it, allowing sufficient space for the children, sat parents and friends.

Gifts were distributed to the children, who later joined with zest in a "treasure hunt." Prizes were concealed in a patch of ground and each child placed a flag there, and those who came nearest were awarded the prizes.

The children were also entertained during the afternoon by Bert Burroughs' Concert Party; Mr. Aslett as a conjurer; Mr. Jones with his monkey; Mr. Murphy as a coster, and the Barneyett's Band.

Those responsible for the very excellent arrangements for the function were Messrs. R. S. Vergette (Secretary), B. E. Maughan (Treasurer), R. R. Wood, H. E. Strange, J. Deakin, W. H. Edmonds, W. Longbottom (Committee), and Mesdames Maughan, Hollidge, and Edmonds.

The function was in the nature of a tea-dance and all present spent a merry time. Music was provided by the band of the R.M.S. Empress of Canada.

CHRISTMAS MAIL.

Two large Xmas mails arrived on Boxing Day, one from Home via Suez by the P. & O. s.s. Khyber and the other from U.S.A., Canada, Japan and Shanghai and Europe via Siberia by the s.s. President Jefferson.

The Khyber arrived just after 3 p.m. on Saturday and the Post Office staff worked overtime sorting the letters, which were delivered first thing yesterday morning. The papers and parcels arriving by this steamer, were not dealt with until yesterday morning, and the former were delivered the same day; while parcels will be available this morning.

No less than 600 bags of letters and papers were brought by the Khyber, of which 130 bags were from the United Kingdom, the letters and papers being dated London, November 28th. Parcels, of London, November 18th, were contained in 277 bags. In both cases, the above figures include transshipments (parcels and letters for treaty ports, etc.).

The parcels brought by the Khyber numbered 2,101; 2,092 brought last year by the Kalyan which arrived on December 28th. The total mail this year was larger by 25 bags.

The s.s. President Jefferson came into port about 4.30 on Saturday afternoon, bringing 450 bags of letters and papers, and also a number of Christmas parcels. These were dealt with yesterday morning.

MR. A. G. M. FLETCHER, C.M.G.

APPOINTED COLONIAL SECRETARY OF CEYLON.

We are informed that the Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, C.M.G., now acting Colonial Secretary of Hongkong, has been appointed Colonial Secretary of Ceylon, the position vacated by H.E. Mr. Cecil Clementi, C.M.G., on his appointment to the Governorship of Hongkong.

It will be generally recognised that Mr. Fletcher's departure will be a great loss to the Colony. He has spent 24 years in the Hongkong Civil Service. Most of his service has been in the Colonial Secretariat, though in his younger days he occupied such positions as Acting Assistant Registrar-General (the old title of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs), Deputy Registrar of Marriage, Registrar of Trade Marks and Letters Patent, Acting Assessor of Rates, Acting Deputy Registrar and Appraiser at the Supreme Court, Official Receiver, Acting Colonial Treasurer, and Head of the Sanitary Department. He has also acted as Private Secretary on two or three occasions to the Officer temporarily administering the Government. During the past twelve years, Mr. Fletcher has remained at the Colonial Secretariat. He was appointed to the post of Assistant Colonial Secretary and Clerk of Councils in 1913, and has since, on several occasions, acted as Colonial Secretary, and while so acting has been a member of both the Executive and the Legislative Councils.

During the war Mr. Fletcher was Secretary to the Military Service Commission which combed the Colony for British subjects who could be spared for Military Service, and he also rendered valuable service as Chairman of the Vital Requirements and Shipping Control Committees.

During the past few years Mr. Fletcher has figured prominently in all important negotiations and discussions in which the Government has been concerned. We may recall the controversy with local shipowners over the title to the large profits that accrued from the war-time Shipping Control Scheme; secondly, the negotiations for the transfer of Military lands to the Civil Government; and, thirdly, the protracted negotiations entered upon by the China and Japan Telephone Co. for an extension of their agreement but ending in the transfer of the rights and interests of the London Company to a local Company which had then to negotiate with the Government, the terms of their monopoly. In the negotiations which followed the great strike of seamen three years ago it was Mr. Fletcher who figured most prominently as the Government's representative when the settlement was being discussed, and it is upon Mr. Fletcher's knowledge and experience that the Government has largely relied in the difficult situation created by the trade boycott at Canton.

We recall also the indefatigable efforts made by Mr. Fletcher in connection with the Housing problem which confronted the Colony after the war, and the scheme for leasing Crown land for building purposes free. What is known as the Forty Years Lease System will remain associated in the public mind with the name of Mr. Fletcher, for it was he, and the public were told by Sir Edward Stubbs, owed its origin to Mr. Fletcher's fertile brain and inexhaustible activity.

This, it may be added, was not the only public reference made by Sir Edward Stubbs during his tenure of the Governorship to the high opinion he entertained of Mr. Fletcher. In connection with the controversy over the shipping control profits His Excellency said: "I was not here at the time myself (when the report on the operation of the scheme was prepared), but I have spent many hours in looking through the file of papers on the question, and in the course of my perusal of these voluminous documents I have been struck by the ability, industry, zeal and desire to do justice to everybody which actuated the Colonial Secretary (Mr. Fletcher) throughout."

The general public recognise these qualities in all the highly responsible work which Mr. Fletcher has undertaken; and while the highest congratulations will be universally extended to him in the Colony upon receiving well-merited promotion, it will nevertheless be widely felt that his transfer will be a great loss to the Colony.

Mr. Fletcher's services during the period of the War were recognised, in 1919, when he was made a Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, and recognition of his later services to the Colony came in 1922 when he was honoured by H.M. the King with the C.M.G. decoration.

The salary attaching to the post of Colonial Secretary of the Crown Colony of Ceylon is £2,400 a year. It is the highest paid Colonial Secretaryship in the British Empire. It will be recalled that Sir Edward Stubbs held the post before being transferred to Hongkong, and Mr. Clementi likewise was promoted from this position to the Governorship of Hongkong. It is also in the nature of a coincidence that Mr. Clementi and Mr. Fletcher joined the Hongkong Civil Service as cadets within a couple of years of each other, H.E. the Governor coming out to the Colony in 1899 while Mr. Fletcher arrived on January 1st, 1902.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher leave Hongkong next Saturday week, and it is scarcely necessary to say that they will carry with them the good wishes of the entire Colony.

DISORDER IN SWATOW.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

Swatow, December 21st.

In describing the attack upon the English Presbyterian School, and the Anglo-Chinese College, in my letter of December 15th, I inadvertently missed you when I stated that damage to the extent of $250,000 was done.

The damage done by the "workers" of furniture and fixtures amounted to nothing like this figure. The $250,000 is the estimated "damage" that would be done if the project of pulling down the E.P. Mission property for road-widening purposes were carried through.

At the time of writing everything is quite quiet here.

THE ANTI-CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT IN CANTON.

NO SERIOUS DISTURBANCES.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

Despite strong anti-Christian agitation in Canton, led by Mr. Chan Kung Pok of the Labour Division of the Kuomintang during the Christmas holidays, the Churches carried out their annual entertainments as usual, the Canton Police and Garrison, upon instruction of the Canton Government, having issued warnings against lawlessness. Some 420 small groups were engaged in giving street lectures denouncing Christianity, and only minor disturbances on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day are reported.

The Canton Christian Council, however, has decided not to hold the annual New Year revival services on account of the Red opposition.

MINES IN CANTON WATERS.

THEIR REMOVAL NOW ORDERED.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

The Russian commander of the Kuomintang Navy at Canton has ordered the removal of all mines and other obstructions from Canton waters, as a consequence of the failure of General Chen Chiung Ming's operations.

THE "HONAM'S" LAST TRIP.

After nearly fifty years on the Hongkong-Canton run the s.s. Honam, made her last trip down from Canton on Boxing Day. She arrived alongside the wharf at Hongkong during Saturday afternoon and following her arrival, certain effects and property of the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Company were removed. These articles including personal property of the officers, saloon crockery and other utensils, were transferred to the s.s. Lung Shan, which had during Saturday morning berthed on the other side of the wharf. The Lung Shan takes the place of the Honam on the Hongkong-Canton run and makes her first trip this morning.

The Honam, which flew a red paying off pennant with a white cross on it, during the last two days of her life as a river steamer of the Steamboat Company, remained at the wharf until yesterday morning. Her new owner, Mr. Yuk Shue, of Messrs. Kung Wo, black wood manufacturers, of Hollywood Road, who has purchased her for $20,000, took possession of the steamer about ten o'clock, and it is understood that while the engines are to be sold as scrap iron, the owner of the Honam intends converting the vessel into a house-boat.

THE "FRATERNITY PARTY."

HONGKONG MERCHANTS DEPART FOR CANTON.

The "Fraternity Party" of Hongkong Chinese merchants, numbering just under 300, left for Canton on Saturday morning by the s.s. Paul Beau and were seen off at the wharf by many other local Chinese merchants and friends.

The party are headed by Mr. Wong Kwei Hi and Mr. Lui Yam Suen. They are expected to return to Hongkong on Wednesday. While the announcements in connection with the visit have regarded as a delegation having anything to do with negotiations for the termination of the boycott of the trade of Hongkong it is nevertheless felt that the friendly conversations which the members of the party will have with representative leaders in Canton, including the Strike Committee, will do much to pave the way for an early restoration of friendly relations between Canton and Hongkong.

THE "TAI SHAN"

SPEED TRIALS TO-DAY.

The s.s. Tai Shan, constructed by the Taikeo Dockyard and Engineering Company, for the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Company, is to undergo her speed trials this morning. The new steamer will take her place on the Hongkong-Macao run next Monday.

YESTERDAY'S CHURCH SERVICES.

PATRONAL FESTIVAL AT THE CATHEDRAL.

Special services were held at some of the churches in the Colony yesterday and were well attended.

At St. John's Cathedral the patronal festival was observed. The Church is dedicated to St. John, and once a year special reference is made to his gospel, its inherent beauties are discoursed upon, and a direct appeal is made to members of the Church to aid in its furtherance, and to practice its teachings. Yesterday, the celebration was made a thanksgiving Sunday.

In the course of the last two years several innovations have been made in the Cathedral. Not only has the edifice been beautifully refurbished, but the Chapel has been enlarged, and an organ casing has been set up. The innovations at the Cathedral have cost a deal of money, and yesterday, not only did a large congregation take part in the Thanksgiving service, but an exceptionally good collection was made towards the raising of the $13,000 which are required.

Sermons were preached by the Rev. T. B. Powell, B.A., and by permission of Captain W. J. Lake, R.N., the string band of H.M.S. Hawkins played from 6.45 to 8 p.m. Carols were sung at the Evening Service.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The services at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, included a special carol service and organ recital in the evening. The large congregation joined wholeheartedly in the rendering of carols. The items given on the organ were all sacred classics.

A TENNYSONIAN SERMON.

At the Union Church, Kowloon, the Rev. J. Horace Johnston, B.A. (the pastor), took for his sermon the reciting of Tennyson's "Morte d'Arthur." He interpreted some of the most difficult of the poetic passages, and discoursed upon the saintly characters therein described. It was a novel and interesting sermon, and not only did he touch the heart of his audience, but he also made his hearers familiar with one of the classics of our literature.

Christmas solos, with violin obligato, were sung by Mrs. Lewis E. Davies, who recently arrived in the Colony from America, and has now taken up residence in Kowloon. She is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory of Music, and her singing delighted her hearers. It was an evening of poetry and song, and there were none who failed to appreciate it.

OBITUARY.

MR. A. G. JEFFRESS.

The late of Mr. Albert Gustavus Jeffress, first vice-president of the British American Tobacco Co., Ltd., whose death at sea is announced, was en route in the Dollar steamer President Pierce to New York from Shanghai where he had spent several months. Born in Virginia, U.S.A., about 50 years ago, deceased was connected with the old American Tobacco Co., and went to England about 25 years ago, just prior to the formation of the British American Tobacco Co., Ltd., since which time he has lived in London. At the formation of this company, he was the first chief accountant in London, and shortly after was elected to the Board of Directors, sometimes in 1903. He soon became one of the Vice-Presidents. On the retirement of Mr. J. B. Duke from the chairmanship of British American Tobacco Co., Ltd., in 1923, and upon the election of Sir Hupso Cunliffe-Owen, Bart., as chairman, Mr. Jeffress was made first Vice-President. His duties on the London Board have always been particularly associated with the China interests.

He was a man of exceptional ability, with a great capacity for hard work, and was largely instrumental in building up the business in the Orient. Mr. Jeffress, who came to China frequently on business trips, says our Shanghai contemporary, was a man of pleasing personality, and his many friends in China, both foreign and Chinese, will be greatly shocked to hear of his death. He leaves a widow and two sons.

THE OBJECT OF PUNISHMENT.

Sir Walter Shaw, late Chief Justice of the Straits Settlements, writes to the Daily Mail—

"I notice that the Home Secretary, in his address to the Discharged Prisoners' Aid Society on Wednesday last, appears to have subscribed to what seems to me to be a common fallacy prevailing at the present time—namely, that the prime object of punishment for crime is the reformation of the offender.

"Surely the first object is the protection of law-abiding citizens by discouraging criminally disposed persons from committing offences.

"Although the reformation of the particular offender is earnestly to be attempted, are we not in our modern zeal for humanitarian principles, somewhat inclined to forget that it is merely a secondary object of prison discipline?"

THE SHANGHAI ENQUIRY.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS PUBLISH THE JUDGES' FINDINGS.

JUDGES UNABLE TO COLLECT SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE FOR UNANIMOUS DECISION.

POLICE PRACTICALLY EXONERATED.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

SHANGHAI, December 27th.
A message from Peking, dated December 27th, says that the Diplomatic Corps to-day published summaries of the reports of the Judicial Enquiry into the incident of May 30th together with the report of the Diplomatic Commission which went to Shanghai in June, the letter of the Chairman of the Municipal Council of Shanghai to the Senior Consul, dated December 21st, and similar documents.

The Diplomatic Corps in a preliminary statement say that as no Chinese witnesses came forward, the Judges were unable to collect full and sufficient evidence and could not reach a unanimous decision. Each submitted his own report.

THE AMERICAN VIEW.

Mr. Justice Johnson's report extends to eleven pages. It attaches some blame to Mr. McEuen.

JAPANESE JUDGE'S FINDING.

The British and Japanese Judges, on the contrary, attached no blame to the police. Judge Suga definitely stating that none of the police can be accused of culpable negligence, that Mr. McEuen was not responsible for failing to anticipate the disturbances; and that Inspector Everson's order to fire was justifiable.

FAR EASTERN CABLE NEWS.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

WARFARE IN NORTH.

CAPTURE OF KUO.

TOKYO, December 25th.
After General Kuo, Sung Lin, who is one of Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's principal supporters had offered to surrender if his life and property were guaranteed, he was captured by Chang Tso Lin's cavalry while fleeing disguised as a coolie. All General Kuo's generals have now surrendered to Chang Tso Lin.

An unconfirmed report states that Kuo was brought in to Mukden and executed last night, and his wife also shot.

A section of General Chang Hsueh Liang's troops are reported to have entered Hsinminfu.

In view of Marshal Feng's entry into Tientsin, the Japanese War Office is considering the despatch of two battalions to that place.

FALL OF TIENSIN.

SHANGHAI, December 24th.

A wireless message from Tientsin says General Li Ching Lin's desperate counter-attack on Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's forces in the outskirts of Tientsin has failed, and Li Ching Lin's troops are now in full retreat.

Peking, December 24th.
After several days of heavy fighting, with thousands of casualties on both sides, Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang's troops entering Tientsin this morning.

AERIAL BOMBS USED.

Tokyo, December 24th.

Special correspondents at Mukden report that Hsinminfu has been destroyed in an aerial bombardment. Simultaneously, Marshal Chang Tso Lin launched his counter-attack on the whole front, and has advanced within two miles of Hsinminfu. The aerial attack continues.

The Japanese have warned Chang Tso Lin against destroying the Japanese Consulate at Hsinminfu.

EARLIER NEWS.

Tokyo, December 24th.

A Nichi Nichi special message from Mukden reports that the City of Hsinminfu was partly destroyed by aerial bombardment yesterday afternoon, whilst, simultaneously, Chang Tso Lin launched a general counter-attack along the whole front, resulting in the right wing advancing to within two miles of Hsinminfu.

THE RESULT.

The letter of the Chairman of the Council to the Senior Consul states:

"The Council being placed in possession of a summary of the findings of the Commission of Enquiry, I have the honour to inform you that notwithstanding the findings of the majority of the Judges exonerate the police from blame, Mr. McEuen and Inspector Everson have tendered their resignations. The Council, preferring, as always, to take action likely to promote the settlement of the question, have accepted their resignations with an expression of appreciation of the meritorious services of these officers in the past.

"The Council renews its expression of regret at the loss of life on May 30th, and as a mark of sympathy to the wounded and relatives of the killed encloses a cheque for $75,000 which the Council asks you to transmit to the Chinese Foreign Commissioner for distribution among those concerned as a compassionate grant."

"This letter was telegraphed by Reuter to Hongkong from Shanghai on the 23rd inst., and was published in our columns the following day. It was added then that the Senior Consul in transmitting the letter to the Foreign Commissioner wrote: 'I feel sure you will appreciate the friendly spirit which inspired the Council's action.'—En.]

and the centre, under Chang's son, recapturing Chuliuho. The Mukden forces were continuing their aerial attacks at various points.

An Asahi special report from Mukden reports similarly, and adds that the Japanese have warned Chang's troops against destroying the Hsinminfu Consulate. The Mukden forces flank attack caused Kuo to retreat without having a prepared position in the rear.

The Nichi Nichi attributes Kuo's defeat to three factors; the lack of proper fire control resulting in an ammunition shortage, the Mukden forces' flank attack, and Wu Chun Seng's skilful cavalry handling.

A Kokusai message from Mukden says that owing to Wu Chun Seng capturing a quantity of munitions when he took Paikipo yesterday, and as Kuo's lines of communications are reported to have been cut, the Fengtien troops anticipate the complete collapse of Kuo's army shortly though there is no doubt that a desperate attempt to retrieve the losses will be made.

It is reported that the Fengtien troops have captured twelve field and twenty heavy guns, a large number of rifles and many prisoners.

APPEAL TO JAPANESE CONSUL.

The War Office reports that some of General Kuo's officers visited the Japanese Consul-General at Hsinminfu on the 22nd, requesting him to mediate between the rival commanders for a peaceful solution. It was explained to the Consul that the request was made without General Kuo's approval, but they were prepared to sacrifice everything for reconciliation, provided a guarantee were given. The Consul-General, Mr. Yoshida, discussed the proposition with the Chief of the Civil Administration at Mukden till late on Wednesday night.

JAPAN'S ATTITUDE.

A Kokusai message from Mukden says General Kuo was captured by Fengtien cavalry while fleeing in the disguise of a coolie to Linoyang on Thursday afternoon.

The Japanese War Office is prepared to send two battalions to Tientsin, in view of the new situation, but at present this has not been decided on.

The Imperial Diet is convened for this morning for preliminary business, and again meets to-morrow.

A Foreign Office spokesman stated that even though Chang Tso Lin is apparently victorious he will not be permitted to re-enter Mukden until all possibility of attack by the National Forces is past. The Foreign Office feels that the situation is still unsettled.

The Japanese have permitted Kuo Sung Lin's forces to occupy Newchwang and Chinchow, owing to the absence of Chang's troops. There is no danger of fighting.

FRENCH FINANCES.

CABINET NOT HAVING HAPPY CHRISTMAS.

PARIS, December 27th.

From a political standpoint the Cabinet certainly is not having a Happy Christmas. According to some morning papers, the Government is tottering on the brink of a financial precipice, which already has engulfed its predecessors. The trouble apparently is due to a divergence over M. Doumer's proposals, the Left Cartelists (headed by M. Painlevé) objecting particularly to the proposal of the double existing tax business turnovers.

Le Journal roundly declares that M. Briand must resign if the majority of the Cabinet turns down M. Doumer's proposals when the Christmas Day's Cabinet meeting is resumed on December 28th.

According to Le Matin, the Government is at present considering the possibility of presenting a financial programme to Parliament in instalments, whereby proposals dealing with the floating debt and balancing the Budget will be the first reminder, including the thorny problem of business turnovers temporarily held in abeyance.

EARLIER CABLES.

CHRISTMAS AT HOME.

LONDON, December 24th.

Christmas Day opened in true old-time style, with snow and wintry conditions practically all over the country, but later a thaw set in, in the south, bringing back the damp mugginess now usually associated with the holiday.

Londoners mostly spent the day by the fireside, the streets being deserted, though there was a certain liveliness in the evening when the gala dances began at most of the big hotels.

Notwithstanding the cold, hardly swimmers competed in the usual event in the Serpentine. One of the participants was a septuagenarian who admitted the water was somewhat cold. Another veteran, aged seventy-eight, won the Hampstead Heath event in the pond at Hampstead. The churches were crowded. Locarno as the herald of peace furnished the keynote of many sermons.

ENEMY MERCHANTMEN.

HAGUE CONVENTION IS NOW OBSOLETE.

LONDON, December 24th.

"As its purpose appears wholly to have failed," Convention, Six of the Hague, adopted on October 18th, 1907, relative to the status of enemy merchantmen on the outbreak of hostilities, has been denounced by the British Government in a despatch to His Majesty's representatives abroad, signed by Sir Austen Chamberlain on December 18th, 1925.

The despatch says the object of the Convention was to introduce uniformity of practice into the treatment by belligerent states of enemy merchantmen on foreign ports on the outbreak of war, which were appropriated by the government concerned, which was difficult to reconcile with the attitude of the Powers at the Hague in 1907, and with the provisions of the Convention. Owing to a decision by the Privy Council, the British Government is debarred from adopting a similar practice.

The despatch concludes by pointing out that of the Powers signatory to the Convention, seventeen have failed to ratify it. Germany and Russia ratified it with important reservations. The United States has not signed it at all.

REVOLT IN SYRIA.

PREMATURE REPORT OF TRUCE BEING SIGNED.

PARIS, December 24th.

The Beirut report that a Franco-Druse armistice had been signed is untrue. It appears that the report of the signature of the Franco-Druse armistice is at least premature. No confirmation has hitherto been received at the Quai d'Orsay.

A previous message stated that it was reported from Beirut that a Franco-Druse armistice had been signed, and that M. de Jouvenel had released all political prisoners.

POSITION IN MOROCCO.

Fez, December 26th.

The integration of the Rifian block continues with increasing rapidity. The whole Beni Snassen tribe has made a surrender and handed over hostages and arms. The Beni Snassen, which held the Wergna Valley, was not only one of the most important units, but the occupation of its territory will give the French great strategic advantages.

The tribe of Beni Oulid has also surrendered. According to a message from Wezzan the tribes at Tshala and Ghomara have rebelled against Abd el Krim, who has imprisoned or executed the principal Caid appointed by him.

BRITISH BOYCOTT UNDER CONSIDERATION.

CAWNPUR, December 24th.

The Indian National Congress, on December 26th will be presided over by the poetess Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, who was given an ovation by crowds on arrival from Bombay.

The Majority of the crowd were mill-made clothes and there was evidence of Khandi, or hand-woven cloth, for the spread of which Mr. Gandhi is labouring, although all the leaders appeared in hand-woven clothes in accordance with the Congress rules.

The motions to be submitted to Congress include proposals for Swaraj outside the British Empire, the boycott of British goods, and the dissolution of the Swarajist party in order that the Congress itself might carry out the programme of the Council on more approved lines. It is considered doubtful whether the motions advocating complete independence and boycott of British goods will find much support. Meanwhile Mr. Jayakar, a Bombay Swarajist, and Mr. Kelkar, the leader of the Maharashtra Swarajists, are arriving with numerous followers to do battle with Pandit Motilal Nehru for a change of the Swarajist programme from obstruction to responsive co-operation.

A special feature will be a conference with the Indian Communists.

WHEN SPORT BECOMES DANGEROUS.

(BY A PHYSICIAN.)

As soon as a man begins to refuse help to put on his overcoat he has become a foolish old man. He has adopted the motto: "I am still as well and as strong as ever I was!"

The failure to recognise the progress of the years is so very common among the middle-aged that a word of warning should be given. Every year elderly bathers, on the strength of the fifty strokes they used to be able to swim years ago, plunge gaily in to add another to the long list of such holiday tragedies.

Elderly golfers are carried in the clubhouse; elderly riders drop from their horses and are carried away; elderly athletes everywhere are using up the energies which, reserved, would give them a useful, happy life for many a long year. Elderly arteries fail, elderly hearts give under a strain which only a few years ago they bore with ease.

The death of Walter Camp pointed this warning for everybody. Camp was America's leading games coach, aged 65 and looked 45. He thought that because he looked and felt as he was 45. He did everything a young man could do—played games, coached athletes, preached the gospel of hard, vigorous exercise, and lived himself an extraordinarily active, bustling life.

Then one day Walter Camp was found dead. His heart had failed; the 65-year-old heart was 65 and unable to bear the strains thrown upon it by the 45-years body.

The finish of Walter Camp's career is especially notable, but it is being duplicated every day. A 65-year-old man may be young-for 65; but he is not young. At any age, so soon as exercise becomes a strain, it is a bad thing; especially after the fiftieth year has passed. Mild, gentle exercise is necessary for health, but competitive sports and games belong to the young.

If you are 65, congratulate yourself that you feel and look 40-years-old, but still act as if you were 65.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER SHOT DEAD.

LEADING CHINAMAN'S ARREST AT BIRKENHEAD.

TRAGIC END TO PARTY.

Two women were found shot dead and a third dangerously wounded in a Birkenhead house following a twenty-first birthday party recently.

There was a sequel at the Borough Police Court on December 2nd, when one of the leading men among the Chinese community of Liverpool and Birkenhead, named Lock Ah Tam, aged 53, appeared in the dock charged with the murder of his English wife, Catherine, and his daughter, Cecilia, aged 17, and with wounding, with intent to murder, his daughter Doris, aged 20. The latter, it was stated, was in hospital in a critical condition, and her depositions had been taken. Formal evidence of arrest only was given, and prisoner was remanded for a week.

The first intimation the police received of the tragedy is reported to have been a telephone message at two o'clock on the morning of December 2nd from the accused's house, 122, Price Street, Birkenhead. The message asked that police officers should be sent along at once as the speaker said he had "shot his wife and two daughters." When the officers arrived, in response to this message Lock's wife was found lying dead on the kitchen floor, and near her was Cecilia, also dead, while Doris was lying in an unconscious condition, and seriously injured. All three had been shot.

WELL KNOWN SHIPPING OFFICIAL.

While the officers were in the house the accused's son, Lock Ling Ah Tam, entered, accompanied by other policemen, whom he had summoned. The young man stated that a birthday party had been held in his honour, and the tragedy occurred after an argument that took place. It is understood that a revolver and a rifle were found in the house.

Lock is a well known personality in Merseyside police courts, where he has frequently acted as police interpreter, and is one of the leading agents in Great Britain of an important firm of shippers in Singapore. For many years he had also held a position of supervisor with the Ocean Steamship Co., at Birkenhead, where he has engaged Chinese seamen for crews. Eighteen or twenty years ago he became a naturalised English subject, a few years after he had married in Cardiff an English woman. In Birkenhead he has resided for years, in Price Street, and has given his children the best education that could be obtained. Cecilia and Doris, who attended a leading ladies' college in Liverpool, are both described as charming girls. The son was also given a good education, and only a few weeks previously had returned from a trip to China in order to be at home for his twenty-first birthday celebration.

GOOD PROFIT IN A DIFFICULT YEAR.

The Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company has weathered with commendable success yet another year's difficult trading, says the Manchester Guardian of December 3rd. The net result of the twelve months' operations, after providing an unstated amount for depreciation, is within 275,000 of the previous period, that is to say, the recent reduction in the dividend made by prudent shareholders has been more than made good by the company's success. The following is a comparative table of the last three years' results:

The directors, in their usual general summary of the Company's position, cite three main adverse factors—the poor state of trade generally, the "unrest" in China, and the loss caused by labour troubles. As regards the first of these they see no remedy until the exports of the country increase. On the second point they emphasise that, until things properly settle down, there can be no improvement in the trade with China. The loss involved in the shipping strike in Australasia and South African ports they characterise as very serious, but they are able to point to one favourable factor—namely, the increase in passenger traffic during the year, which they attribute to the new and larger steamers introduced on the various lines and to a considerable activity in short-sea traffic to the Mediterranean and Egypt.

A message from Santiago de Chile states that the Congress has appointed Senator Emiliano Figueroa to be President of the Republic of Chile.

In their second innings the Army scored 214, the principal scorer being Capt. Morris with 68. The Club then went in to bat, and secured the necessary 75 runs in 23 minutes, and in doing so they lost three wickets.

PORTUGAL BEAT SCOTLAND IN SUNDAY HERALD CUP.

The opening game in the Sunday Herald Charity Cup Competition was played on Boxing Day on the Hongkong F.C. ground between Scotland and Portugal. This is the first time that England and Scotland have not met in the Annual fixture on Boxing Day. Portugal entered the Competition this year (the second year of the competition) and the luck of the draw brought them out against Scotland. A very large crowd, turned out to witness the game.

Exchanges opened even, Clarke saving from Gutterres and Brodie sending against the front of the crossbar. Scotland took the lead after about twenty minutes play. Forsyth gave the ball to McBride who went in and beat Fernandez with a well placed shot. Portugal got away from the centre kick but Brown spoilt a good opening by centreing weakly and Summers easily cleared. Gosano was sent in but Clarke stopped the shot and the Recreio player following up returned the ball over the bar.

Johnstone was pulled up twice for offside play. A free kick for Scotland a few yards outside the penalty area was cleared and McKelvie returned over the bar. A good movement by Portugal's right wing caught Oram in two minds for he was about to head the ball when he decided to let it drop and Fuertes dashing up beat him and centred, Gosano standing unmarked received and beat Clarke making the score, one goal all. The interval arrived with the score, Portugal, 1; Scotland, 1.

Scotland opened the second half strongly and the wind gave them good assistance. Only had shooting by the opposing forwards kept the Portugal goal intact. A shot from Forsyth skimming the bar and Brodie sent against the crossbar. McKelvie stopped Gutterres and Remedios swinging out to the left, Brown raced away and beat Summers slipping the ball to Silva who sent in and Gosano sent past Clarke, this winning the match for the Portuguese by 2 goals to 1.

Portugal: Fernandez, Ogley and Xavier; A. V. Remedios, A. A. Remedios and H. C. Remedios; Gutterres, Fuertes, Gosano, Silva and Brown.
Scotland: A. E. Clarke; Summers and Oram; McGreavy, J. Stewart and McKelvie; Brodie, Forsyth, McBride, Johnstone and Key.
Referee: Mr. Smyth, Linesmen, Messrs. Ford and Melvor.

PAPER CHASE HUNT.

MRS. BOWER'S SUCCESS.

At Quant on Boxing Day there was a representative attendance of local sportsmen to witness the first paper chase hunt held under the auspices of the Fanning Hounds. The course was just over nine miles and the chase attracted 17 entries of which 15 finished.

The official order of finishing was:—
(1) Mrs. Bower (Lieut.-Com. Spragge's grey pony)
(2) Mr. W. T. Stanton ("Solly")
(3) Mr. G. W. Charles ("Drake")
(4) Mr. T. Reidy ("Nugget")
Mr. Bartholomew on New York was first home, but he missed two fences and was therefore disqualified.

WORK FOR 3,000 MEN FOR EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

Orders for the building of seven large cargo liners have been booked by Sunderland firms. Six of the vessels are for the Silver Line, Ltd., London, to whom 21,107,000 has been guaranteed under the Trade Facilities Act. Messrs. J. L. Thompson and Sons will build three of them and Messrs. Laing and Sons the other three.

Each vessel will have a deadweight carrying capacity of 9,000 tons, and will be driven by oil engines supplied by Messrs. Doxford, of Sunderland. The work will occupy 3,000 men for 18 months. The ships will be employed between New York and the Far East. The Silver Line is a new company, of which Sir James Marr, of Sunderland, is chairman. The seventh vessel has been ordered by Messrs. Cairns, Noble and Co., Newcastle, from Messrs. Pickersgill and Sons, Sunderland, and will have a deadweight carrying capacity of 7,700 tons. Messrs. Parsons, of Wallsend, are to supply the engines.

THE H.K.C.C. MATCH.

The European staff and the local staff of the Hongkong Electric Company had a good game which resulted in the defeat of the former by 31 runs. The European Staff batted first and scored 92, while the Electric Company compiled 123, the principal scorer being A. R. Minu (38).

K.O.C. v. R.A. and R.E.

At the Kowloon Cricket Club on Saturday, an all-day match was played between the Club and the R.A. and R.E. The visitors batted first and scored 153. Lieut. Hall scored 50. Kowloon hit out bat and Goodyer, carrying out his bat for 70, while Ramsay scored 44. Kowloon eventually won by 23 runs, their score being 181.

ANNUAL YACHT RACE TO MACAO.

"U AND I" WINS.

The annual yacht race from Hongkong to Macao, under the auspices of the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club, took place on Boxing day morning, six yachts setting out on the 70 mile trip.

The race was started by the Club's Commodore, Mr. E. W. Carpenter, and the official measurer, Mr. Van Andel. When the preparatory gun was fired at 7.25 a.m. there were seven yachts waiting, but just before the starting gun went, Norseman split her boom and, consequently could not start. The six boats to start, with their particulars, were:—
Brenda (cutter) owned by Messrs. Duggan, Jenkinson and King, under the command of Mr. H. Dreyer.

Coquette (sloop), owned by and under the command of Mr. F. Oliver.

La Cigale (cutter), owned by and under the command of Mr. N. V. A. Croucher.

Lady Jean (Chinese rigged), owned by Mr. M. Raymond, under the command of Mr. H. J. Pearce.

Tary II. (Ketch), owned by E. M. S. Tamar, and under the command of Mr. Brown.

U and I. (cutter), owned by and under the command of Mr. H. S. Rouse.

All the yachts, except Tary II., took the Northern passage. There was a pretty good wind and the yachts passed The Brothers, and it took them down to Sau Chow in good time. The wind blew strongly when open water was reached. La Cigale rounded the Macao mark first at about 1 p.m., while Lady Jean followed half an hour later, and U and I passed the mark at 1.45. The Coquette passed at 2 p.m.

Tary II. was now coming up from the South, and she rounded at 2.50. Brenda had been carried down by the tide, and did not round until considerably later in the afternoon.

U and I, and Lady Jean were taken away to the South by the tide. La Cigale steered a pretty clear course for the West coast of Lantau, but the Coquette, steering for the Macao shore, gained an immense advantage for with the wind coming from N.N.E. she was well to windward.

At the critical point the wind failed, and she was carried up the river.

La Cigale was first home, followed by the U and I, and the Coquette. Dark-ness had fallen by this time.

The details of the race was as follows:

	H'cap.	Finish.	Correct- ing	Time.
Course.
U and I. (1)	1.11.00	5.40.22	4.29.22

This reply analyses very fully the various contentions put forward by the Bolsheviks in their propaganda, and gives the British point of view. It should be kept on record as it will always be useful for reference purposes.

The issue of August 29th contains the full report of the great indignation meeting held at the Theatre Royal, together with the text of the Telegram sent to the Prime Minister.

HOW TO LIVE LONG. EXERCISE, SLEEP, FOOD AND DRINK.

[BY SIR WILLIAM ORPEN.]

Though there is a lot of nonsense spoken and written about exercise and about eating and drinking, there can be no doubt of the necessity of focusing as often as possible the public attention on these three subjects. For, as the doctors tell us, and as we all come to realise in time, though often too late, they are the keys to health.

I suppose the really lucky people, if they but knew it, are those who, because they have ailed in their youth, have learned thereby, sooner than the rest of us, the wisdom of reasonable diet, care in eating and drinking, and sanity in exercise, and so have grown into healthy, long-lived people. But the majority, of whom, of course, I am one, are born in vigorous health and spirits. At first we eat and drink more in accordance with inclination than with the advice proffered by our elders, although we should have known, had we thought about it, that their wisdom came from experience, often from deep suffering.

When one has passed through youth to middle age Nature, who may have been jogging us occasionally before then, becomes more insistent in her warnings, and speaks in a voice which only the madman disregards. Then we begin to take stock, to think seriously of the future, and, by revising our diet and by wise exercise, endeavour to make up for some of the vagaries of our careless past.

CARELESS INDULGENCE.
Unfortunately, the number of persons who do this in time, even in middle age, is not high. Wherever one goes—in the club, in the theatre, to public dinners—one can observe tragic examples of careless indulgence. One hears of men passing middle age and still smoking long Havana cigars as they are dressing for breakfast, spending every night of the week in a stuffy dance-room or night club, rushing from engagement to engagement, and giving themselves no time for quiet contemplation or exercise or relaxation, and taking perhaps as few as three or four hours a night for sleep, and so on. Some persons will go from one violent extreme to the other: from five hectic days of City and West End life to a couple of days of violent sport, instead of living a regular well-ordered life. There are a hundred and one healthy exercises which attract the public, but there is only one which makes an appeal to me—Walking, and lots of it.

It is the ideal physical recreation for anyone who has a healthy pair of feet and legs. My home is two miles distant from my studio at Earl's Court; but instead of being driven there by a car in the morning, or taking a cab or bus, I WALK. When I return home I also walk. And so I save my pocket and improve my health. I always recommend my friends to do more walking, though I very much doubt if they take my advice.

After I have finished work in the afternoon, instead of going straight home, I walk from Earl's Court into Hyde Park, and spend at least an hour there WALKING, covering some four or five and sometimes six miles. When I am in town, winter and summer, rain and sunshine, light and dark, I take that nightly walk in Hyde Park, London's free exercise ground, for which I feel real gratitude.

Sometimes I walk as many as fifteen miles in a day; never less than ten. And that in London, where the temptation is always to ride, and never to exercise the legs more than a hundred yards. Believing that it is essential, one can manage it, to have frequent changes of air, I spend half my time in Paris; approximately six weeks here and six there, walking exercises as in London. When not at my Paris studio I spend hours walking about the boulevards, up the Champs Elysees, round the Place de la Concorde, and in the Bois de Boulogne.

Some say they must play tennis every day to keep fit. I like tennis, but how can one hope to keep playing it regularly? Tennis necessitates frequent telephoning to somebody to make a fixture for a hurried game. Our free hours may clash; there is a good deal of waiting about and time lost. That is not good enough. What one requires is regularity which a walk only can give as I maintain about the park or when going to or from my work.

As for sleep, those who are born tired may obtain solace from this confession, although I claim to work as long and as hard as any trade unionist. I believe in passing about half my life in sleep. Twelve out of the twenty-four hours I slumber peacefully away. I go to bed about ten o'clock and I sleep the clock round, and this almost every night of my life.

When I was a small boy—I suppose I was about seven years old—I began to smoke. I was not many years older when I found myself smoking the modest number of about seventy cigarettes a day. This went on until 1921, when Mother Nature had something very forcible to say. She whispered, "Young man, you must make a change for the better." I found I had nicotine poisoning—a very unpleasant thing to have. Consequently I did something drastic with my cigarette habit, reducing the consumption to about ten cigarettes a day. There is no need for a very strong will-power to keep a rule of this kind, particularly if the mind realises that there is very serious trouble immediately ahead. The exercise of control is in itself a source of benefit.

LIGHT MEALS.

On both eating and drinking I have some definite opinions, though I have no time for those who are always preaching a reduction in the number of meals, from four to three, from three to two, from two to one. The one-meal-a-day man probably eats as much as I do, and I believe in four meals daily. But they must be light meals.

Everyone knows that if he eats sparingly at a meal he is better afterwards, and that the desire to take another course, natural at the time, disappears immediately after rising from the table. No man in his senses, wishing to do good work, to paint a picture, would prepare to play a strenuous game, would prepare for it with a heavy breakfast, lunch, or dinner. I certainly could not paint a picture after a huge breakfast.

I believe that the palate is a safe guide to one's diet. Our medical friends are very keen on vegetables and the vitamins they contain. So far, I have been able to get along fairly well without them. Fresh fruit I like; but I have no taste for vegetables, and give them a miss. I like fish and meat. I have heard that Mr. Arnold Bennett prefers his meat red and underdone, rather than well cooked. I am with him there. A chop or a red steak, with plenty of bread, forms an excellent item of diet for my work.

As regards drinks, I know that if I would remain healthy—as I hope to do—there must be no cocktails; and there are none. They are pernicious. Well-diluted drinks are my favourites: whisky with plenty of soda, and not too many of those. Neat spirits and liquors I have sworn out of my diet. They, too, are pernicious. National wines are all right; red wine, white wine and, when one is lucky, champagne—all, of course, in moderation.

I give my own experiences on this subject for what they are worth, hoping they may be of use to some. But knowing human nature, that so few of us are inclined to learn from anyone else's experiences but our own—and then usually too late—I fear that I shall not have stirred a very great army to give greater care to the all-important subjects of diet and exercise.—Evening Standard.
